CELINE MCDONALD BIO

Celine Mcdonald's paintings have been exhibited at galleries and museums in New York City; Washington, D.C.; Provincetown, MA; Boston; Woodstock, Vermont; Pound Ridge, New York and the Berkshires. Her work was described as "hauntingly beautiful" by Cape Cod Magazine and is represented in many private and corporate collections. Celine recieved a Bachelor of Arts in Painting from Marymount Manhattan College and was a Fellow at the Provincetown Art Association and Museum. She also studied at the School of Visual Arts and Massachusetts College of Art. Passionately painting since she was a child, Celine's life journey includes extensive work as a photographer and as an oncology nurse.